buying and selling information. These wholesale prices result from our monitoring all possible sight-seen transactions and offers to buy or sell. The coins may be certified or "raw", but the grading must adhere to the current leading standard. Prices also consider activity in the certified sight-un.cen market (PCGS & NGC). CDN Quarterly prices will be strongly influenced by Sells which are lower than listed levels. A higher Bid will normally raise ally, which assume a willing and knowledgeable buyer. The actual buying offer for a rarer coin depends largely on the availability of a customer; on occasion, customer demand may be weaker for rarer dates or varieties, and dealers must consider this before purchasing for inventory. Rarity also plays a key role in selling prices, with a substantial premium asked for extremely scarce coins; the wholesale asking price may be multiples of the listed Bid price. Prices on more-frequently traded coins will reflect the greater activity; prices on less-frequently traded coins may reflect last-known information. These wholesale prices should not be misinterpreted by retail clients as levels at which coins can be bought or sold; wholesale variation in looks and attractiveness within a particular grade. A coin must stand on its own merits; this is the heart of sight-seen trading. Bronze coinage is especially susceptible to spotting, and severely spotted issues may command a lower price. Prices will also be affected by cleaning, planchet flaws or porosity, rim nicks, and other factors in the final grading

A tilde ("~") indicates no reliable pricing information is available; an

"n/m" indicates that none were made. Prices in the XF columns are for coins of a coin. Prices listed are for 'no-problem' coins.

The CDN Quarterly reports the highest wholesale prices seen nation-

CDN Quarterly prices, and a lower Sell will normally lower them.

CAC Jumps to New Heights!

Five short years ago, CAC was established by leading members in the numismatic industry who recognized the need for a higher level of grading. While still in its youth, CAC has revolutionized the market and continues to experience impressive growth.

In short order, CAC's green sticker is trusted by dealers and collectors, signifying the mark of quality within a grade. To date, CAC has examined over 400,000 coins valued at $1.8 Billion, awarding the green sticker only if a coin meets CAC's stringent standards. What's more, CAC provides liquidity to the market. Since its inception, CAC has purchased coins in excess of $275,000,000.

Coins honored with the CAC sticker make it easy to identify those that are truly solid for the grade. Want confidence? Look for the green sticker.

Using the CDN Quarterly

CDN publications report prices based on national dealer-to-dealer buying and selling information. These wholesale prices result from our monitoring all possible sight-seen transactions and offers to buy or sell. The coins may be certified or "raw", but the grading must adhere to the current leading standard. Prices also consider activity in the certified sight-unseen market (PCGS & NGC). CDN Quarterly prices will be strongly influenced by Sells which are lower than listed levels. A higher Bid will normally raise CDN Quarterly prices, and a lower Sell will normally lower them.

The CDN Quarterly reports the highest wholesale prices seen nationally, which assume a willing and knowledgeable buyer. The actual buying offer for a rarer coin depends largely on the availability of a customer; on occasion, customer demand may be weaker for rarer dates or varieties, and dealers must consider this before purchasing for inventory. Rarity also plays a key role in selling prices, with a substantial premium asked for extremely scarce coins; the wholesale asking price may be multiples of the listed Bid price. Prices on more-frequently traded coins will reflect the greater activity; prices on less-frequently traded coins may reflect last-known information. These wholesale prices should not be misinterpreted by retail clients as levels at which coins can be bought or sold; wholesale buying requires a substantial market presence.

Prices listed are for typical examples; numismatists expect a wide variation in looks and attractiveness within a particular grade. A coin must stand on its own merits; this is the heart of sight-seen trading. Bronze coinage is especially susceptible to spotting, and severely spotted issues may command a lower price. Prices will also be affected by cleaning, planchet flaws or porosity, rim nicks, and other factors in the final grading of a coin. Prices listed are for 'no-problem' coins.

A tilde ("~") indicates no reliable pricing information is available; an "n/m" indicates that none were made. Prices in the XF columns are for coins graded XF40; AU columns are for coins graded AU50.

CAC Stickers Do Not Add Value!

Then why do CAC stickered coins bring a premium?

While it is true that CAC-verified coins bring a premium in the market, the "little green" sticker is not what adds the value. Truth is, with or without a CAC sticker, a quality coin will always bring a premium.

N 450,000

2 billion CAC has evaluated over 400,000 coins with a market value over $1.8 billion. Only those coins which meet stringent standards for quality within a grade are awarded a sticker. That is why CAC stickered coins bring a premium - they are placed on only quality coins.

What's more, CAC is a powerful market maker for its stickered coins. In fact, CAC has recently purchased over $275,000,000 worth of coins.

So the CAC sticker does not add value - It is just an easy way to identify coins that are solid for the grade. And it gives you confidence in the value of a coin.

Ron Drzewucki

Modern Coin Wholesale

CEO, Ron Drzewucki has been a professional numismatist since 1984 and a member of Professional Numismatists Guild (PNG) since 1995. A professional numismatist since the age of 15 years old, Drzewucki has for years been a dealer "known as having a superb eye for coins" and "has the experience and discriminating eye to make those important distinctions between grades", according to the Numismatic Guaranty Corporation's newsletter. With 200 dollars he went to his first coin show and made a profit. From that point on Drzewucki began traveling across the United States to buy and sell coins. His interest in coins began when he started collecting U.S. Mint and Proof sets.

Using the CDN Quarterly

CDN publications report prices based on national dealer-to-dealer buying and selling information. These wholesale prices result from our monitoring all possible sight-seen transactions and offers to buy or sell. The coins may be certified or "raw", but the grading must adhere to the current leading standard. Prices also consider activity in the certified sight-unseen market (PCGS & NGC). CDN Quarterly prices will be strongly influenced by Sells which are lower than listed levels. A higher Bid will normally raise CDN Quarterly prices, and a lower Sell will normally lower them.

The CDN Quarterly reports the highest wholesale prices seen nationally, which assume a willing and knowledgeable buyer. The actual buying offer for a rarer coin depends largely on the availability of a customer; on occasion, customer demand may be weaker for rarer dates or varieties, and dealers must consider this before purchasing for inventory. Rarity also plays a key role in selling prices, with a substantial premium asked for extremely scarce coins; the wholesale asking price may be multiples of the listed Bid price. Prices on more-frequently traded coins will reflect the greater activity; prices on less-frequently traded coins may reflect last-known information. These wholesale prices should not be misinterpreted by retail clients as levels at which coins can be bought or sold; wholesale buying requires a substantial market presence.

Prices listed are for typical examples; numismatists expect a wide variation in looks and attractiveness within a particular grade. A coin must stand on its own merits; this is the heart of sight-seen trading. Bronze coinage is especially susceptible to spotting, and severely spotted issues may command a lower price. Prices will also be affected by cleaning, planchet flaws or porosity, rim nicks, and other factors in the final grading of a coin. Prices listed are for 'no-problem' coins.

A tilde (" ~") indicates no reliable pricing information is available; an "n/m" indicates that none were made. Prices in the XF columns are for coins graded XF40; AU columns are for coins graded AU50.
